The Epstein Files crisis has lately reached a fever pitch. After months of calling it a hoax, first, Trump directed his Attorney General to investigate Democrats and their connections to Epstein. Then, in an apparent reversal, Trump announced that he supports the House voting to release the files. A vote could come as soon as Tuesday. Left unsaid, of course, is the fact that Trump's Department of Justice could simply release the files at any time. No votes are needed.

CRI, of course, supports the release of the files no matter who's in them. But we also know that, no matter what happens, Donald Trump will still be president and our democracy will still be in peril.

We have a lot more work to do if we're going to stop our country's slide into authoritarianism. We can't be distracted by Trump's outrage du jour. On December 4th, we will gather to plot, plan, and strategize how we resist. We hope to see you there.

Kick In Some Funds

We are all volunteers and we run CRI on a shoestring budget, but we could use a couple bucks to make copies, buy snacks, and pay for meeting space. If you can make a recurring contribution or a one-time contribution, it helps make what we do possible.
