

Immigration Committee Update -- March 13th

Above is Wiggins Park in Camden, the location for CRI's No Kings 3 Rally. Can't wait to see you all there!

No Kings III

Join Cooper River Indivisible for the No Kings 3 March and Rally on Saturday, March 28th. We are coming together again, louder than ever, to demand an end to the Trump Regime's tyranny!

Oh! And we will gather at 11:00, right at Camden's City Hall Patco stop -- easy peasy! The march leaves at 11:30, and we will march to Wiggins Park, where the rally with speakers, music + dance party, tables of info and plenty of port-a-potties await us.

In addition to the volunteer opportunities at the second link below, the immigration committee needs about 30 volunteers to walk as a group and carry small butterfly signs handmade by our very own creative team. See sample butterfly below. Butterflies are the universal symbol for migration.

Email Gretchen and Michele at immigration@crinj.org if you would like to walk -- or rather, flutter and fly --(cheesy, we know) with this group.

Stitches for Solidarity Needs Yarn Workers at KN3!

We would love to have a 'Yarnworking as Protest' presence at the No Kings III rally on 3/28. It would be great to have a significant number of peacefully-protesting knitters and crocheters crafting red protest hats! We will figure out the logistics of getting chairs to Wiggins Park if we have enough people sign up for this effort. If you're interested, use this link to sign up:

Mutual Aid Update

Since the last newsletter, the Mutual Aid team has been hard at work collecting food and monetary donations for local families in need with special attention being given to the needs of immigrant families. We have worked with LUCY, Wholesome Riches, Camden middle schools, the Camden City Police, and churches throughout our area to make sure we get the food and supplies to the places most needed. Thank you for helping to make that happen.

Stitches for Solidarity Get Together -- All Are Welcome

Stitches for Solidarity is a group of CRI sewers/quilters/knitters who are interested in putting their needles to work to spread caring and kindness in these troubled times.

All skill levels are welcome! Even if you've never made a quilt or worked with yarn or embroidery floss before, we'll need people to cut and iron fabric, roll yarn balls, and sort beads at the event (and you may end up learning how to use a needle or crochet hook along the way -- not to mention making some wonderful new friends!

We have just set a date for our next large-group session, which will be on Saturday, April 18th. Watch for the Mobilize sign-up link.

Valentines for Middle School Students

After hearing Brenda, a middle school teacher from Camden, share the fear her students feel every day, a group of CRI members took the initiative to make a Valentine for each of the Brenda's students. Upon receiving the Valentines, Brenda said her students felt the love and encouragement in each and every Valentine. And to top off the good work, these CRI members followed up with lunch at an immigrant owned restaurant in Camden.

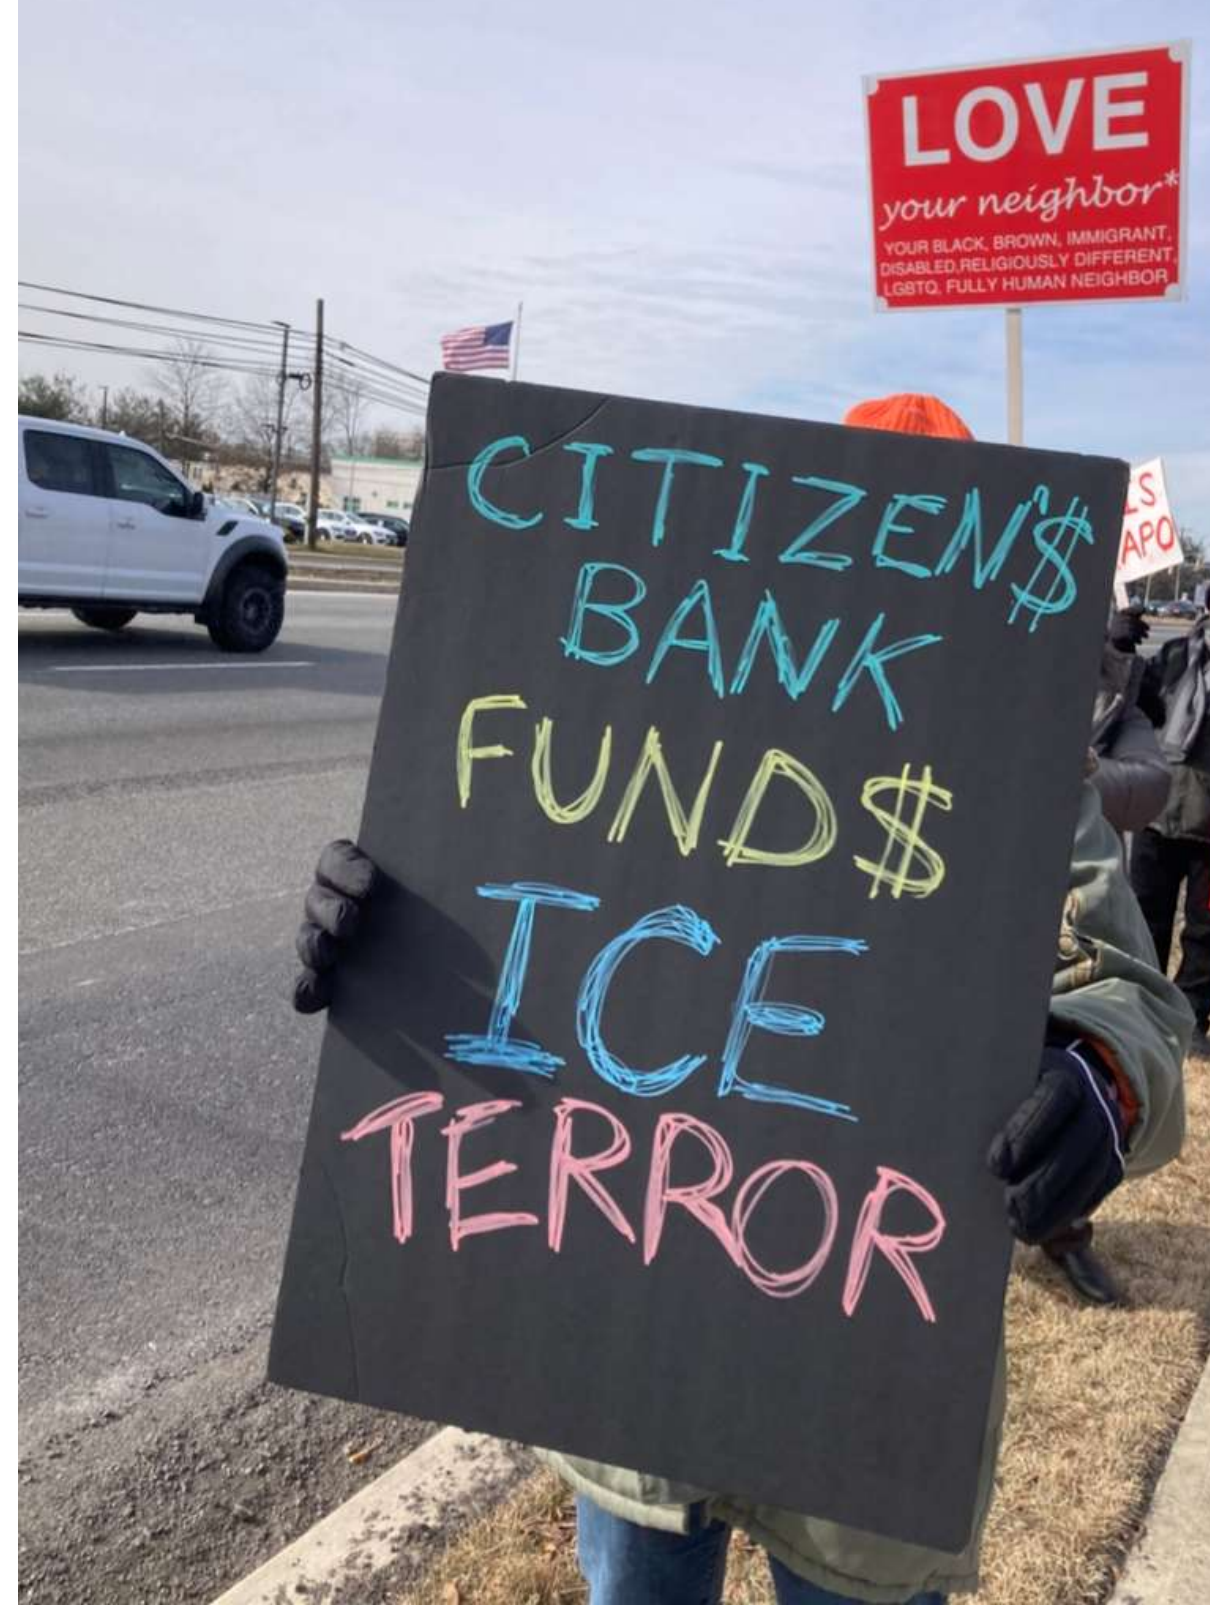

Standing in Solidarity at the Mt. Laurel ICE Facility

Upon learning that New Jersey residents were receiving texts from ICE requiring them to check in with less than 36 hours notice on a Saturday or Sunday, CRI immigration committee members showed up to stand in solidarity with impacted community members, while providing our fellow community members with important resources.

Protest at Citizens Bank

Did you know that Citizens Bank is the only bank providing funding for detention centers? So check out our Mobilize page for Saturday protests at Citizens Bank, and demand that they stop providing funding to the Geo Group and Core Civic, the two largest private detention center owners in the country. And...
